

Where real conversations spark real progress in property.

Whether you've been investing for years, just starting your first project, or still planning your first step into property — you're welcome here.

The Hemel & St Albans Property Network (HSPN) is a friendly, sales-free community designed for anyone with a genuine interest in property.

Each month, local investors, landlords, trades, and property experts gather for an evening of authentic networking, shared experience, and practical insight with no presentations, no pitches, and no pressure.

Why people keep coming back

Because it's not about talking at you—it's about talking with you.

- Valuable conversations, not sales talk. Every chat in the room is an opportunity to learn something useful from someone who's actually done it.
- A mix of experience. From seasoned developers to new investors, from lettings pros to trades — there's a huge amount of knowledge being shared.
- Local community feel. Build relationships that lead to collaboration, mentorship, and long-term growth.
- A curated environment. Every attendee is verified so the conversations stay relevant, genuine, and valuable.

Who you'll meet

- Property investors building and refining their portfolios
- Developers and deal sourcers with active projects
- Newcomers ready to take their first leap into property
- Trades and service providers who genuinely add value

It's a space where everyone—whatever stage they're at—can grow their network, deepen their knowledge, and share what works.

Led by Those Who've Walked the Path

Our very own Richard Evans, a Property Business Mentor with over 30 years' experience, and the Founder of Awaken 2 Business, is a proud member of the Hemel & St Albans Property Network (HSPN).

Each month, Richard joins fellow investors and property professionals at HSPN to connect, share insights, and offer practical guidance on how to streamline, structure, and scale your property business sustainably.

He's not there to sell or present—he's there to talk shop, exchange ideas, and help others make their property ventures work smarter, not harder.

Because that's what true community is about: learning from experience, sharing what works, and growing together.
